

FENCING

Fencing for the 2012 Olympic Games will be staged in the award-winning Moscone Convention Center. Situated in the heart of San Francisco and one block from the proposed IOC Hotel, this venue will provide superior facilities for the athletes. All of the technical facility requirements, staging areas and training pistes will be provided.

By staging both the preliminaries and finals in the Moscone Center, the athlete areas can be located between the venues, which are set in separate halls. Spectators will be able to move easily from sessions in the preliminary venue to the finals. For the finals, a special, amphitheater-style seating plan has been developed to serve 6,000 spectators.
