- 13.2 Give very detailed information regarding the proposed construction of new accommodations in your city and region prior to the Games, together with an official guarantee from the competent authorities confirming your estimates (preparation of land-use plans, financial assistance, etc.).

Indicate the estimated number of additional rooms, per category of hotel, that this would add to your city/region.

Table 13.2 provides information on additional hotels and rooms that are under construction in the San Francisco Bay Area at this time. We have not provided any information on hotels that are planned but not yet in development, although there will be a substantial number of hotels and rooms added to the region's inventory prior to 2012.

- 13.3 Give a description, in table form, of the accommodation planned for all categories of people mentioned in the above introduction—type of accommodation, number of rooms, location, level of comfort, distance from Olympic venue (in miles and kilometers, and in minutes by car).

Specify if this refers to existing infrastructure or in facilities to be built. Where the infrastructure is to be built, provide guarantees by the owners concerned that the work will be performed. The original documents must be given to the USOC (Theme 19 – Guarantees). Indicate the planned post-Games use for new constructions other than hotels.

Table 13.3a describes the accommodation for all categories of people mentioned in the introduction.

Table 13.3a Hotels for All Groups

For the International Federations we have identified superior accommodations at hotels that are within a ten-minute drive, or less than ten miles, of the competition venue for their sport. These hotels could be used to accommodate working staff and officials of the International Federations, for congresses, meetings and other functions that they may require. The hotels are listed in the chart below.

13.4 Which are the official hotel(s) designated for the Games (IOC and USOC hotel)? Provide relevant information (category, location, etc.)

Will it be possible to hold the IOC Session there? If not, indicate and describe the proposed alternative site.

The proposed IOC Hotel is the San Francisco Marriott. This hotel is located immediately adjacent to the Moscone Convention Center, which will house five sports competitions, and within a ten-minute drive of six other competition venues. The Marriott is a superior hotel, selected also for its close proximity to freeway access and for its other general accessibility features (wide streets, ample space for vehicle staging, substantial parking, possibility to restrict traffic around the hotel). The Marriott features 1,498 rooms, the largest meeting space of any hotel in San Francisco, three restaurants and a lounge.

The proposed USOC Hotel is the Argent, selected for its close proximity to the IOC Hotel and for all the same reasons expressed above. The Argent features 667 rooms.

The proposed hotel for additional Olympic Family members is the Palace Hotel, two blocks from the Marriott, which features 552 rooms.

While it would be quite possible to hold the IOC Session at the Marriott Hotel, BASOC proposes that the Opening Ceremony of the IOC Session be held in the Herbst Theater in the San Francisco War Memorial Performing Arts Center. The Herbst Theater is symbolic of the Olympic Games and the international stature of the city of San Francisco, having served as the site of the signing of the original charter of the United Nations in 1950. San Francisco was selected for this honor a half-century ago because of its proximity to East and West. The Herbst Theater, which seats 1,000, is part of the San Francisco Civic Center complex and sits adjacent to the Opera House, Symphony Hall, City Hall, Main Public Library, Civic Auditorium and the Asian Art Museum, home to Avery Brundage's art collection.

13.5 If applicable, list the other accommodation possibilities that could be envisaged (e.g., cruise liners, camp sites, etc.) What would be the capacity of this additional accommodation?

Cruise ships, as they did in Sydney for the 2000 Olympic Games, provide superb first-class accommodations for sponsors and others. The Port of San Francisco can actually provide substantially more opportunities for cruise ships than Sydney.

The Port of San Francisco currently has one pier, Pier 35, which is dedicated to cruise ship activity. The pier can handle two ships simultaneously, accommodating more than 2,000 passengers. In addition, development has begun to replace Pier 35 with two new cruise ship piers (Pier 30 and 32). The port also has 16 sites for anchorage throughout the San Francisco Bay and can handle the 24-hour operation of shuttling passengers from cruise ships to the San Francisco waterfront. Anchored cruise ships can function as hotels for passengers, easing the demand for hotel space in the region. Along the waterfront, passengers can connect to the various regional transit services.

13.6 Provide the USOC with all agreements signed with the hoteliers or competent authorities concerned guaranteeing the availability of the required number of rooms and accommodations needed for the Olympic Family during the Olympic Games under the financial conditions stipulated in the Host City Contract. A copy of the original contract must be given to the USOC (Theme 19 – Guarantees).

State the total number of rooms blocked in the different accommodation categories in accordance with the above-mentioned guarantees.

Agreements with the three hotels designated as IOC, USOC and Olympic Family Hotels – the San Francisco Marriott, the Argenta Hotel and the Palace Hotel – are included in Theme 19 – Guarantees.

In addition to these agreements, letters of commitment from the following organizations that represent hotels throughout the San Francisco Bay Area are included in Theme 19 – Guarantees:

- The San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau
- The San Jose Convention and Visitors Bureau
- The Oakland Convention and Visitors Bureau
- The Sacramento Convention and Visitors Bureau
- The Santa Clara Convention and Visitors Bureau
